

GEORGE BUSH

February 24, 2005

Dear Tim,

The response to the President's call for help to assist the victims of the devastating tsunami has been overwhelming and gratifying. The phone calls, faxes, and e-mails started coming in almost immediately.

President Clinton and I were thrilled when we got word about your willingness to help. Thank you for your generosity and your compassion. You exemplify what is best about our country – caring for others.

With best wishes and appreciation,
